Exchange Rate Causes Concern In Great Britain

London.—The renewed slump in exchange is conveniently referred to in morning papers, as "a slight dip" or such terms as "cheap" and "grave crises" to the position, which they declare threatens to bring to a standstill international trade, or drive nations back to barter. Some of the papers advocate a settlement of the difficulty by an international conference, which the bankers recently asked the government to convene, and which, according to some sources, the government had already invited.

Others are not inclined to place faith in such a convention. The Daily Mail is amongst these. It says: "So far as Great Britain is concerned, there are three obvious remedies, namely, to cease printing paper money, economy and increased production."

The Post deprecates the tendency in some quarters to charging the United States with interfering when explaining the trouble.

Undeveloped Wealth In Manitoba

John Morrison Also Urges More Railway Facilities for Natural Resources

Winnipeg.—The value of northern Manitoba in natural resources, in timber, in minerals, water power and fish and the opportunities there were for agricultural development in sections, were laid before the legislature of Manitoba at its last sitting by John Morrison, Ruperts Land, who declared that untold wealth was awaiting the advent of capital and railway facilities to be made productive. Morrison's strong plea for the establishment of a mill for making paper out of pulpwood was regarded as particularly applicable at the present time.

S. M. Hayden also took part in the debate for the address and told the people of Manitoba would welcome the day when the inter-provincial traffic in strong drink was prohibited.

9,000 Pensioners Now Affected

Ottawa.—Nearly 9,000 pensioners and dependents are affected by the transfer of payment of British pensions to the Canadian board of pension commissioners, which has now been made. The pensioners in receipt of Imperial pensions, however, are still under the office paying Imperial pensions. Ottawa, and must address him in forwarding letters or documents to the Canadian office, which has full control of the pensioners, staff, etc., the money in question being forwarded by the British government.

Italian Strike Near Settlement

Rome.—An agreement on all the principal points at issue has been reported between the Italian unions and the leaders of the striking railwaymen, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome. It is expected the strikers will return to work immediately, the message added.

Lumber Embargo

Winnipeg.—A committee of the Western Retail Lumbermen's association has been appointed to consider the advisability of requesting a limited embargo on lumber because of the present shortage. Opinion of the delegates on this subject is divided.

Must Practice Economy Is Warning Given

Toronto.—Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Dominion Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting of the bank, referred to the numerous warnings given that the economy must be practiced in this country, but so far these warnings have not had the slightest effect. Sir Edmund said. Extravagance is the order of the day and in my opinion will continue to be the order of the day until conditions change and hard times come on.

Sir Edmund states that while the past year has been a prosperous one for the bank, the future must be one of anxiety to all financial bodies. The exchange conditions were serious,

Increased Work May Save Germany

Minister of Agriculture Declares That Worse Times Have Yet to Come

Berlin.—We have only arrived at the value of today through which we are forced to pass, said the minister of agriculture, Herr Braun, in the Prussian diet in connection with the food debate.

Worse times are coming, the masses must be told that our only hope is increased work.

The minister then made the start-line announcement that Germany would soon arrive at the point where she would be unable to buy anything abroad, but will be wholly dependent upon home production.

The Whereabouts of Premier Borden

Is Reported to Have Told Justice He Would Not Go to His Ship

Ottawa.—It is stated in quarters which are generally accepted as authentic that Sir Robert Borden is now actually on his way to England with Admiral Jellicoe, or to wherever the former First Sea Lord is going since his plans to visit South Africa were hurriedly cancelled. It is said that when Lord Jellicoe's visit to South Africa was called off the prime minister stated that he would stay with the ship, wherever she was going.

Says Flu Danger is Over

Ottawa.—Physician "Thinks There Is No Influence in New York

Ottawa.—"There will be no recurrence in this generation of the flu epidemic," is the hopeful conviction of one of Ottawa's foremost physicians, Dr. H. C. Church.

Chicago and New York haven't got the flu at all," he declared. "The cases reported so faithfully from day to day in such numbers are nothing more or less than what is popularly known as 'grippe.' The symptoms are no different and the death rate no higher than the old and more familiar influenza."

"In my Ottawa practice I do not know of one person who has been attacked with the flu who has had a recurrence. The attack seems to have humanized those who once fell victims and survived while those not so fortunate were not susceptible to the disease at all."

"This scourge undoubtedly has swept the world in past ages. Its origin is mysterious and its course is widespread and disastrous. But a generation or perhaps many generations, will elapse before it comes again in the deadly form that it did in 1918."

Hughes Predicts War in Pacific

London.—W. A. Hughes, Australian prime minister, speaking at Melbourne, said the next war would probably break out in the Pacific, according to a Central News dispatch from Sydney.

"We must be ready with a sufficiently numerous army to say, 'This far and no farther,'" he is quoted as saying. "We are hedged about with nations which lust after this country."

ous, he said, and in Canada a large amount of money probably would be withdrawn which had been borrowed from England and Scotland by the various mortgage companies, and loaned on mortgages in this country.

"There is no indication now to send money from England," Sir Edmund said, "and there is every indication for the English lenders to have the money sent back to England to take advantage of the low rate of exchange."

Sir Edmund concluded by saying: "No money can be expected from Great Britain for investment in this country until the exchange conditions change."

Gompers Condemns Bolshevism

Says People Are Being misled By News From Sources Which Are Not Authentic

Washington.—Writing in the current number of the Federationist, organ of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers condemns Bolshevism completely, finally and for all time.

Mr. Gompers declares he doubts whether the propaganda which emanates from the Bolshevist organization is more effective than that conducted by those who claim to be entirely detached from Russian influence and Russian pay rolls.

He says he doubts whether publications issued by Russian Bolshevist agents have as great an effect in this country as those which like to be known as journals of opinion, such as the Nation, the Dial, and the New Republic.

Mr. Gompers makes an extended reference to the argument that the American people know little about what is going on in Russia, and the argument that it is unfair and unwise to pass judgment.

"All the information necessary," says Mr. Gompers, "is the passing of judgment on Bolshevism and the system of government and as a state society is at hand from sources that are authentic. The plea of those misguided persons who say 'wait for facts before passing judgment,' is nothing more than a device to keep it hoped, will gain time for the Russian experiment and enable it to spread to other countries."

Labor Refuses to Join Nationalists

Official Report of the Parliamentary Delegation Has Been Made Public

Belfast.—The official report of the parliamentary delegation which has been investigating conditions in Ireland, declares an alliance with the Nationalist party. It declares the fact that the Nationalists recently advised Irish supporters in Great Britain to vote for Labor candidates means only that the Nationalist party is convinced that the only party ready to give justice to Ireland is the Labor party.

"The Labor party delegation consists of Arthur Henderson, William Adamson, J. R. Clynes, W. T. Wilson, J. A. Parkin, and W. R. Smith."

Disposition of German Vessels By Brazil

Rio Janeiro.—The question of final disposition of the 45 German ships taken over by Brazil during the war, some of which were leased to France, is again keenly occupying public attention.

President Pessoa said that it was his personal opinion that Brazil, as a matter of honor and by reason of the signature of the peace treaty, should indemnify Germany to the extent of $25,000,000 for possession of the ships.

Passports Relaxed

London.—The government has relaxed the passport rules for James Ramsay MacDonald and Charles Roden Buxton to go to Russia as part of a delegation appointed by the International Socialist Congress at Bern.

The decision was taken after consultation by Premier Lloyd George with Premiers Nitti of Italy and Millerand of France.

Plan New Cable

Amsterdam.—The Western Union Telegraph Company is planning construction of a direct cable between America and Holland, according to the Handelsblad.

Condemns Irish Education Bill

Catholic Clergy Describe the Measure as a Demoralizing Scheme

Maynooth, Ireland.—Strong condemnation of the proposed Irish education bill was expressed at the assembly here of the cardinals, archbishops and bishops. Speakers described the measure as the most demoralizing scheme put forward for Ireland since the act of union. They declared that until Ireland was governing herself any attempt to abolish the existing boards of education as proposed by this bill would be resisted, as the measure deprived the clergy of control. If it were put in force, it was insisted, it would be the hierarchy to instruct Catholic parents regarding the education of their children.

Great Changes Seen In Great Britain

Son of British Premier Says Large Landowners Are Being Eliminated

New York.—That Great Britain is undergoing great economic and political changes during the past year, the construction following the war, is the opinion of Major Richard Lloyd George, son of the British prime minister, on a business trip.

To the Canadian Press he voiced his regret that his hurried trip to this country on business affairs made it impossible for him to visit Canada. He will sail for home February 14 on the Adriatic.

"One of the most important changes in England," he said, "is the breaking up of our system of large landowners, who are selling their holdings because they are unable to pay the heavy taxes that have been imposed upon them. In the sale of these properties they are reserving the first opportunity of selling to the tenants whose ancestors have been creating the thirty peasant class in Britain, which has been sold to France and Belgium in rebuilding those war-demoralized countries."

The land-owning classes came in for praise from Major Lloyd George, who said they had made no effort to hasten the war and derived an enormous amount of the credit for victory.

As to the fighting in Britain over the lifting of the embargo against Soviet Russia, he said:

"Feeling in favor of re-opening trade with Russia has been growing for some time and is very strong at present, especially among the laboring classes. But you need attach no importance to a statement by me. I am a business man, not interested in politics. The Labor party in Britain is undoubtedly growing stronger and stronger. It is showing its influence everywhere, especially in the by-elections. However, no party is strong enough to dominate the government in Britain. Whatever change comes about, the government must continue to be one of coalition, as it has been during the war."

Weekly New York Air Service

Four Largest Aviation Firms in England Negotiating for Combining

London.—Four of the largest aviation firms in England are negotiating with regard to a combine with the central purpose of development of a transatlantic weekly air service. It is said to be the purpose of the combine to purchase all airplanes which the government does not require for the army and navy. Experiments have been arranged for the early spring, when short trips to Scandinavia and Holland will be attempted, after which an endeavor will be made to put into effect a weekly service to New York, the voyage taking 60 hours.

Red Star Line Service Resumed

New York.—The full Red Star line of the New York service, with the American steamers Kronland and Finland and the British steamers Holland and Sealord, will be resumed after February 25, the International Mercantile Marine company has announced. The Kronland and Finland are being reconditioned in New York shipyards, and the Sealord in England, after serving through the war as transports.

Clemenceau to Visit Egypt and France

Absolutely Sincere in His Decision to Remain in Retirement

Paris.—Former Premier Clemenceau has reserved a stateroom on the steamer Lorient, leaving Marseilles on February 3, bound for Alexandria, Egypt. He is reported to be absolutely sincere in his decision to remain in retirement, and under no circumstances to be drawn again into the turmoil of politics. To the editor of L'Homme Libre he remarked the other day, after his defeat in the test vote of parliament on the Presidency vote before last: "Some persons need a kick, others a kick, I am through. My enemies may think I created a kick, parliamentary friends a hint. At one time I am through, I am off for Egypt, then, well, we shall see, perhaps India."

The land-owning classes came in for praise from Major Lloyd George, who said they had made no effort to hasten the war and derived an enormous amount of the credit for victory.

As to the fighting in Britain over the lifting of the embargo against Soviet Russia, he said:

Petition for Civilian

In addition to the petition which is being signed by those who took part in the Great War, another petition is being circulated amongst civilians for their co-operation. We publish below a copy of this petition. Civilians every where are signing it and if you are a citizen you are asked to add your name to the list and to get others to do the same. If you wish further particulars write to the Grand Army of Canada, 1211 Street, Toronto.

Civilian's Petition

To the Honorable the House of Commons, in Parliament Assembled.

The petition of the undersigned Electors of the Dominion of Canada humbly sheweth:

That the Dominion of Canada owes a great debt of gratitude to all those who enlisted in the Canadian Services during the Great War.

That those who enlisted in these services were not inspired by mercenary motives to join a mercenary army hired to serve an arbitrary power of the State, but were called forth by the declarations of Parliament to defend their own, and the liberties of the British people, and to maintain those just and equitable laws and constitutions under which peace and happiness have been secured to them by the wisdom and valor of their ancestors.

That those who so enlisted, when ever called upon, in a time of sacrifice, acquitted themselves to the honor and glory of their country with the result that the exceptional discipline and valor of the Canadian Forces have been recognized as not inferior to that of any other units that served in the war. They were understood and not least any portion gained or entrusted to them; they never failed to gain or carry any objective assigned to them. They were the leading shock or storm troops of the Allies, and during the whole course of the war they never lost a single gun.

That it is recognized that such services cannot be measured in terms of money, and it is not the wish of those who served that it should, still they suffered certain disabilities during their terms of service, which Parliament, as representing the whole people, is in duty bound to remove.

That it is desirable that nothing should be left undone to re-establish those who have served, and to place them in a position equal to that which they might have been expected to attain had they remained from Active service and remained at home, pursuing their customary vocations.

This in view of the abundance of wealth and revenues of the country, it is considered that the most effective way in which satisfactory re-establishment can be accomplished will be to grant a cash bonus on the following basis:

Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray:

That in order to re-establish those officers, non-commissioned officers, men and women who have enlisted and served in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces at home or abroad, or who having been resident in Canada before or during the Great War of 1914-1918, served in any branch of the Allied Forces, and to place them in a position to which their services justly entitle them, a cash bonus be given on the following scale, viz:

$50.00—To officers, N.C.O.'s, men and women who served in France or any other zone of active warfare.

$150.00—To officers, N.C.O.'s, men and women who served in England or on foreign duty.

$1,000.00—To officers, N.C.O.'s, men and women who served in Canada.

$2,000.00—To officers, petty officers and ratings in the Naval Service who were engaged within the official war zone.

$1,500.00—To officers, petty officers and ratings in the Naval Service who were engaged on high ships and patrol duty.

$1,000.00—To officers' petty officers and ratings in the Naval Service on duty in Canada only.

That a cash bonus based on the ratings as the above be paid to the parents, wives, children or proven dependents of deceased sailors and soldiers.

And as it is duty bound your petitioners will ever pray.

Forage Plants of doubtful value

(Experimental Farm Note)

Considerable interest has lately been taken in Sudan Grass as a forage plant in Canada. Some who have tried it claim that they have had good results, and consequently, they have expressed favourable opinions on its merits and possible value. Certain seed firms have also begun to advertise it as a valuable grass, no doubt in a bona fide belief that it has a place in Canadian agriculture.

It has come to my notice, however, that the value of the grass has been grossly misrepresented by at least one seed dealer operating in the Province of Quebec. A farmer from Quebec wrote a short time ago asking for information on Sudan Grass. He enclosed a clipping taken from a seed man's catalogue in which the various qualities of Sudan Grass were described in glowing terms. The description was accompanied by a list showing the grass growing to a height of some ten to twelve feet at least.

The publication of such a picture is culpable misrepresentation, but if the particular case referred to is it more than that, it is a clear case of fraudulently advertising. And to be sure, the same seed man has also been told to illustrate the merits of so-called "Man's wonder," which is a Southern Millet that is perfectly useless in Canada.

Under the circumstances a few words may be said about the real value of Sudan Grass, as born out by unbiased observations.

Sudan Grass is, as the name indicates a grass from tropical Africa. As such, it requires considerable heat to develop properly. The United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, Washington, D.C. published a few years ago a bulletin on Sudan Grass, telling about the results of experiments obtained by Experimental stations in United States. These results clearly indicate that Sudan Grass has no particular value except in the most Southern parts of the United States. In the northern States its value is not any greater than that of any of the ordinary millets. It is quite obvious that that Sudan Grass cannot claim to be of any outstanding value to Canada, and certainly not in any district where the summer heat is less than in the warmest parts of New York State.

When, this summer I visited Washington, D.C. I asked several of the United States Forage Plant Experts for their opinion on the subject, and they all considered it most unlikely that Sudan Grass, at least the varieties now available, would have any outstanding value for Canadian agriculture.

A few experiments conducted in Canada have confirmed this opinion and, under the circumstances, the Sudan Grass must, at present at least, be looked upon as a forage plant of very doubtful value.

Burdett Council meeting

At a meeting of the Village Council on Monday last, Ernest Jubb was appointed village dog catcher, and was instructed to collect the dog tax of two dollars for males, and five dollars for females forthwith.

During these times when the High Cost of Living hits our pocket book so hard it is gratifying to hear that the price of Fresh Meat is not advancing, at least not at the Burdett Meat Market.

SCOTLAND

A boy at school wrote the following Essay

Scotland is a brave war land on the north of England. There is water nearly all round it and whiskey all over a large part of it. There is great mineral wealth in the country. Gold has been found in certain localities as well as in the pockets of natives, but in both cases it is difficult to work.

Its chief exports are Harry Lander and Scotch Whiskey but enough of the latter is kept at home to satisfy home consumption. Its chief import of recent years has been Winston Churchill. A part of the native costume is called the kilt. It resembles a small petticoat in pattern like a chessboard, but in cold weather considered a draught board it was first invented because the aborigines could not get trousers big enough to get their feet through. Their national instrument is called a bagpipe, which it is said, on being blown, produces a tane. Scotch regiments have been known to march to death during the music of these pipes, but it is not known if their willingness to face the former was inspired by their desire to escape the latter.

The man the Scotch people love above all is Robbie Burns. It is said that he was born in Brunnington. His chief productions were "Stop Your Ticking Jock" and "Scots Wa Hae."

The national characteristic is endless expenditure.

A weary Life for a Merchant now

The following letter was quoted at a recent convention of the Lower States Retail Merchants' Association by Senator M. Peterson, who is secretary of the Minnesota association, as one he received from a member of his association in expressing his inability to pay his dues. Possibly it may strike a responsive chord in some other weary merchant's heart.

Dear Senator: For the following reasons I am unable to send you the check asked for:

I have been held up, held down, and haggled, walked on, sat on, flattened out, and squeezed. First by the United States government for Federal war tax, the excess profit tax, the Liberty Bond Loans, Thrift Savings capital stock, merchants license, "auto tax" and every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can construct to get all chattels which I may or may not have in my possession.

From the Society of St. John the Baptist, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Wagoner's Relief, the Navy League, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Purple Cross, the Double Cross, the Children's Home, the Dorcas Society, the Young Men's Christian Association, The Boy Scouts, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Jewish Relief, the Belgian Relief, and every hospital at the town.

The Government has so governed my business that I don't know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined, informed, required and commanded, so I don't know who I am, where I am or why I am here. All I know is that I am expected to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire, or hope of human race and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give any one I am taxed, discriminated, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied about, held up, hung up, robbed, and nearly ruined, and the only reason that I am clinging to life is to see what I can come next.

Some lessons from a dry season

(Experimental Farm note)

The experimental Station at Rosthern suffered severely in 1919 from soil drifting. It then comprised one quarter section and was the only farm in the immediate neighborhood that so suffered from the same cause to any great extent. It is well to note that it had been continuously cropped to grain for the previous eleven years.

In 1919 the weather conditions of 1910 were in a large measure repeated at the original quarter section that had formerly suffered so much from soil drifting was not effected, whereas most of the farms in the district that had been cropped for a number of years suffered severely.

This quarter that drifted so badly in 1910 and only one drift in 1919, so long as time during the intervening period one or both of two treatments that had not been accorded to any of the farms that drifted in 1910. Most of this farm had been under grass for two years at some time during the intervening period and some of that which had been under seed and of that which had not been in seed had some time during the period received a heavy application of barnyard manure.

Looking back over the last ten years we find that only twice have we had a hay crop but was a paying proposition as a hay crop but one cannot say but infer from the press clippings that soil has an important value apart from the hay crop in affording stability to the soil in a dry season. One can scarcely get away from the conclusion that manure had an important function apart from its fertilizing value.

These were three quarter sections added to the Experimental Station within the past few years and most of this land drifted badly in 1910. But it is worthy of note that land only drifted which had been fall plowed or followed the year previous. None of the spring plowing drifted. The fallow and fall-plowing were followed down to a fine dust by the action of the wind whereas the spring plowing had a lumpy surface. We cannot afford to do without fallow nor fall plowing yet both operations tend to produce conditions.

Favourable for soil drifting is followed by a dry season.

The prevailing winds were from the North East although the two worst of the whole season were from the west by south west. There is a popular bluff at the south of the middle of the farm and north west from the bluff to the considerable distance there was no soil drifting in a field the remainder of which was completely destroyed. Careful measurement indicated that every foot in height of the bluff protected the crop for a distance of fifty feet. It was also noteworthy in the distance that those farms which had been plowed as a quarter of a mile in all directions suffered practically nothing from soil drifting.

The conclusion derived from our experience of the dry seasons 1910 and 1919 are:

1. The plowing under of manure in the summer fallow has a tendency to prevent soil drifting in the following years.

2. The seeding to grass now in five to seven years and leaving in sod for two years has a value greater than its value as a hay crop in furnishing food for the soil.

3. Plantations of trees protect crops in the direction towards which are the prevailing winds blow for a distance of approximately fifty feet for every foot in height of the trees.

Wm. Munro, Superintendent, Experimental Station, Rosthern, Sask.

To take Industrial Census of Alberta

An industrial census of the province, which will include all information about the industries at the present time operating in Alberta and will be the first effort to compile such statistics, will be undertaken at the beginning of February by the Alberta Industrial Development Association. During the recent executive sessions held of this organization and the Industrial Congress, held in Calgary the plans for this week were fully discussed. The Industrial census is the first step in the active campaign by the Association for the support of Alberta Industries and the promotion of Alberta manufactured goods. It will entail a good deal of work and a special man will be employed who has a general knowledge of the province industrially and is particularly experienced along these lines.

At the recent executive meetings the members expressed the opinion that one of the first things they ought to do was to have an active and aggressive support of the industries already successfully operating in the province.

They also felt that it was of prime importance for them to have accurate information as to the number and character of the industries located in Alberta.

Europe Misunderstands America

Among the more astute and well-informed diplomatic statesmen and publicists of Great Britain and France, and to an increasing extent in the United States and certain European countries, it is becoming more and more apparent that the growing gap between the glorious opportunity presented by the Peace Conference for the clearing up of not only international misunderstandings but of not taken full advantage of, and that to a great extent that opportunity was wasted, with the result that the misunderstandings remain and comparatively trifling differences are still exaggerated and rankle.

The underlying cause of failure to grasp the full opportunity presented is set down to a misunderstanding on the part of European statesmen and people of the complexion of the President of the United States, and Mr. Wilson is blameless in that he is apparently not prepared to attempt to acquit his conferees in the Peace Conference with the limitations of his office. Acquainted as European peoples are with prevailing systems of government in Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and other countries where it is known that the Government of the day commands the support of a majority of the elected representatives of the people, they are puzzled by the American system where the Executive may continue to administer the affairs of government despite the fact that it may have lost the support of Congress.

During the war, the people of Europe were amazed and puzzled at the evidence of an almost autocratic power possessed by President Wilson, a power apparently far greater than that enjoyed by any British, French or Italian President. Now, however, the war is over Europe is even more intensely puzzled over the spectacle of the impotence of the Congress in enforcing American ratification of the Peace Treaty and its consequent of the League of Nations, which is regarded as essentially an American conception.

When President Wilson went to Paris he was loaded with honors and clothed with all the power to commit the United States to any policy to which he gave his support, and particularly so to such proposals as he advanced himself. When Premier Lloyd George or Premier Clemenceau gave their assent to any policy before the Peace Conference, the nations of the world knew that it would be accepted by their respective countries or their governments would faithfully recognize. The general impression was that the same was true, possibly to an even greater extent, of the United States. And President Wilson did not dispute that erroneous impression.

What Europe did not understand is that while it is possible to make a treaty for Great Britain and France to enter into treaties without the ratification of parliament, although in both countries parliament must vote the necessary money to make such treaties effective, in the United States the treaty making power rests with the Senate. All the President or executive can do is to negotiate a treaty, but it remains with the Senate to accept, alter or reject it. President Wilson, therefore, occupied an entirely different status at Paris to Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Orlando, and other European ministers. The people of Europe generally were, however, aware of this fact. In the public mind of the old world, President Wilson was credited with powers he did not possess, and his attitude at Paris did nothing to remove the false impression.

Not only the allies, but Germany, too, was deceived, or at least misunderstood the position. Germany relied implicitly on Wilson's famous "fourteen points," believing that they should be the very worst happen and they ultimately suffered ignominious defeat, as they did, they came back on the Wilson program as the basis of peace, and that the "fourteen points" covered the maximum of the demands that both would be imposed by the Allies.

The inevitable result is, of course, that Europe and America still fail to understand one another. The outcome has left a bad impression, and the masses of the people who do not understand the American constitution feel that the United States has broken faith with them; that they accepted the League of Nations proposed by President Wilson when it is generally admitted a satisfactory and workable peace treaty could have been reached in a comparatively short time without the inclusion of the League covenant; and that now the United States haggles over and will possibly reject the policy for which President Wilson was the sponsor.

If, instead of going to Europe himself, President Wilson had sent his envoys to negotiate the Peace Treaty, Europe would have better understood the situation, because President Wilson was only a negotiator himself and possessed no greater power—although wielding a greater influence—than any other European states diplomat. His very presence at the Peace Conference, and, to put it mildly, his failure to enlighten Europe as to his actual powers and standing is today the cause of much misunderstanding and some bitterness which might, and ought, to have been avoided.

Irrigation Development In Southern Alberta

Government to Make a Survey of the Lethbridge Northern Project

For greater sums than were expected at first will be involved in the irrigation schemes which the Alberta legislature will be asked to approve. George Anderson, the California irrigation expert, who was commissioned by the provincial government to make a survey of the Lethbridge northern project, has completed his report, and it is in the hands of the cabinet. The report shows that while the Lethbridge northern scheme will mean an expenditure of about $5,000,000, there is an available water supply sufficient to involve ultimately an outlay of $20,000,000 on irrigation in Southern Alberta. It is the conviction of the government that the work will not be finished, but only begin, when the original Lethbridge scheme is provided.

The Government intends to base upon the engineer's report a recommendation to the legislature, and the whole matter will then be discussed in detail.

Additional Bow Island Locals

From our own Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walworth returned from Medicine Hat, Wednesday February 4th.

Due to the great number of stock running around the district, this has caused many complaints to be made.

A special meeting of the Town Council was called on Tuesday afternoon by the Mayor, when it was decided to send the Mayor Mr. James Neild and Mr. W. A. Bateman to Edmonton to interview the Minister of Education on behalf of the Town relative to the School affairs, both Mr. J. Neild and Mr. W. A. Bateman left the same night for Edmonton.

Many farmers are complaining that their feed is being all eaten up by the great number of stock running at large.

At the regular Monthly Meeting of the School Board held last Monday night, Mr. E. Harding was elected to the position of Secretary Treasurer, and Mr. Blaine was authorized by the Board to go to Edmonton and interview the Minister of Education regarding the School District Financial matters. Mr. Blaine was accompanied by his son Donald on his trip to Edmonton last Wednesday.

(Scribe Paper next week)

Whereas, Bill Dexter having advertised that I have left his bed and board without just cause or provocation, and that he will pay no debts of my contracting, this is to certify that I have quit the fitch taken, lazy, worthless, low-down piece of common trash and that I didn't leave his bed, for he had won, his bed being my own and a present from my mother, and I took it with me, since which time he has been sleeping on a pile of hay. As to his board, he never had a square meal on his table during the five years we were married unless I provided it. And the only piece of meat he ever brought in was a slab of muddling beef steaks from "Spina" Fred's smokehouse. As to debts, no one used worry. He hasn't any credit and couldn't even get trusted at Porkman's store for his chewing tobacco. I had to buy it with money I earned picking blackberries. When I married this good-for-nothing counterfeiter of a human being, as everybody knows I weighed 145 and was fairly good looking. Now I tip the scale at 122 and boulder than a brush fence due to his failure to provide even the common necessities. The only part in his make-up that has ambition to work is his gait, and that never goes on strike. This is to advise everybody that I have quit and quit for good, and any one trusting him, thinking that I will pay the bill, has another think coming.
